

PRICE THREEPENOE.

WANTED, a General SERVANT. Apply at Post Office, Faddington.

WANTED, a strong BOY. J. HAMILTON, chemist, Chippendale.

WANTED, a respectable young person as General SERVANT, at 133, Castle-reagh-street North.

WANTED, a Coach BLACKSMITH. Apply to H. MCABTY, coachbuilder, Liverpool-st. West.

WANTED, a BOY and GIRL. Apply at WOOD'S

WANTED, a good OSTLER. Apply Dog and Duck at Photograph Gallery, Liverpool-st., Woolcomool.

WANTED, a MAN to build a chimney and find the materials. 41, George-street.

WANTED, a General SERVANT. Apply at 131 Elizabeth-street, two doors from St. James' School.

WANTED, a GIRL, to look after a child and make herself useful. 4, Hill's-terrace, Riley-street.

WANTED, two Female General SERVANTS, of cleanly habits. 3, College buildings, Jamison-st.

WANTED, an IKONMONGKH with colonial experience, and who thoroughly understands his business. Apply by letter, Box 110, Post Office.

WANTED, for a country hotel, a COOK and an BUTLER. Apply between 9 and 10 a.m. JAMES JONES, Bathurst-street.

WANTED, a WAITRESS, good Cooks, Housemaids, General Servants.

ANTED, to purchase from 6 to 10 Acres of LAND, with or without improvements, in the vicinity of Sherwood or Ashfield. Address J. A. E. HERALD Office.

ANTED, to rent a HOUSE of 6 or 8 rooms, with garden, paddock, etc., at Sherwood or Barrowby. Address B. T. HERALD Office.

ANTED, an UPHOLSTERER. To a sober trustworthy competent employment at R. TREASMAN'S 3333

WANTED, Milner's Patent SAFE, new or second hand. State price and size, Mr. R. GREATHEAD, Agency and Melbourne Hotel, Margaret-street.

WANTED, a respectable GIRL, 14, to nurse an infant. Mrs. TANGE, Denmark-terrace, Victoria-street.

WANTED, for the country, a LAD, 12 or 14, to make himself useful on a farm. W. PRITCHARD, 17 and 19, King-street.

WANTED, a good General SERVANT. Mrs. THAME, 59, Crown-street, near William-street, Wexford-mooio.

WANTED, a GIRL, as NURSE. S. Agnes-terrace, Victoria-st., near Buck's Hotel, Crown-st., Surry Hills.

WANTED, in a gentleman's family. a few miles from town, a thorough General SERVANT. Apply Mr. E. IPOOLD, 6, Hunter-street.

WANTED, a good SHOEMAKER, a general workman, for the country. Apply at the White Horse, George-street.

WANTED, a MACHINE CLOSER; must be thoroughly up to his business. JAMES PICKERY, George-street.

WANTED, by a respectable English Woman, a SITUATION, either in a tavern or private residence; has a thorough knowledge of housekeeping. Address M. B. 34, Elizabeth-street North.

WANTED, by a young Lady (a Protestant), recently arrived in this colony, a SITUATION as COMPANION to a Lady; most respectable references will be given. Address C. E., HERALD Office.

WANTED, for a small family in the country, a Married COUPLE—the man as Cook, and the woman as Housemaid and Laundress. Apply at Moses' Family Hotel, Park-street.

WANTED, an active steady man as TIME and STORE KEEPER: one acquainted with the (some)

WANTED, a GOVERNESS; must be qualified to teach a sound English education, with French, music, and drawing. Testimonials as to proficiency indispensable. Apply to Mr. HILL, 35, Bent-street.

A comfortable BEDROOM, with use of sitting-room, to LET. Apply 82, William-street.

A PARTMENTS VACANT, with Board, for two Gentlemen. 186, Prince-street. If permanent, terms moderate.

A PARTMENTS, Board optional. 139, Pitt-street, opposite Union Bank.

BOARD AND RESIDENCE for families and gentlemen; drawing-room, with use of piano. 11, Jamieson-street.

BOARD AND RESIDENCE.—Mrs. ELDER'S, 29 and 290, Castlereagh st., near Park-st. Terms from 41s.

BOARD AND RESIDENCE (private) for a Married Couple or Gentleman; also, stable 28, William-st.

FURNISHED SITTING and BEDROOM. Also, Furnished Bedroom, 5, Harnett-street, Woolloomooloo.

FURNISHED Bedrooms to LET with or without

REQUISHED, an Unfurnished BEDROOM, near Hunter or Macquarie streets. C. B. HERALD Office.

REPECTABLE BOARD AND RESIDENCE for a single gentleman, at 66, Hunter-street.

NO LET, No. 63, Harbour View, Botany-street, Surry Hills. Key next door.

NO LET, Detached HOUSE of eight rooms, rent low.
R. HUTCHINSON, wine merchant, Japanna-st.

TO LET, Nos. 6 and 7, Thurlow-terrace, rent moderate.
Apply to W. THURLOW, 74, Elizabeth-street.

TO LET, two new DWELLING-HOUSES on the Glebe Road, of seven rooms, balcony, and kitchen.

TO LET, a small HOUSE, in Wentworth-place Apply at No. 8, Bligh-street.

TO LET, Balcony ROOMS, furnished or unfurnished, with or without board. 169, Gloucester-street.

NO 1, that large HOUSE and SHOP, in Park-st., one door from George-st. Apply at No 8, Bligh-st.

NO LET, a STORE, with dwelling, in Sussex-st., near King-street. R. YEEND, Commercial Hotel.

NO LET, that comfortable family HOUSE, 2, Raphael's-buildings, Prince-street. Moderate rent.

NO LET, two-roomed HOUSES, Raphael's-buildings, Market-street. Newly painted. Moderate rent.

NO LET, with immediate possession, the OFFICES

NO 167, in the best part of Georgeo-street, the PREMISES at present in the occupation of Mr O'Brien, in Castlereagh-street North. Apply to Mr BLACK, 167, Macquarie-street.

NO LET, in Darling-street, Balmain, and close to the Ferry, a large HOUSE, suitable for a family residence. Apply to M. F. JOSEPHSON, 252, Castlereagh-street; or to Mr. E. RAMSAY, Darling-street, Balmain.

NO LET, at Ryde, a Stone HOUSE, containing eight rooms; two minutes walk from the wharf. Apply to Mr. J. MULLENS, 133, Pitt-street; or to Mr. J. FUCKER, Ryde.

NO LET, a HOUSE, situated Marlborough-street, containing six rooms, kitchen, and servants' room. Apply J. PATISON, Fitzroy-street, Surry Hills.

NO LET, the HOUSE and SHOP, No. 92, South Horse Road, with the option of purchasing the stock of career fully-selected Millinery. Apply to Miss O'NEILL, on the premises.

NO LET, in King-street, opposite St. James' Church, a

TO BE LET, at Cleveland, on the shores of Moreton Bay, Queensland, a commodious Brick HOUSE, partly furnished, kitchens, servants' rooms, and offices detached, stabling, coach-house, &c.; a large kitchen garden, wall of good water. The whole in good repair and enclosed within a paling fence. Apply to F. J. JOSEPHSON, 252, Castlereagh-street, or 112, Elizabeth-street North.

BIGGE, Esq., Cleveland, Queensland; or to J. L.
MONTEFIORE, Esq., O'Connell-street, Sydney, New South Wales.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT—THURSDAY.

SITTINGS IN BANCO.

BEFORE THE FULL COURT.

HICKY, LENNON AND ANOTHER.

NEW TRIAL MOTION.

This was a motion by rule nisi for a new trial, upon the plea of the plaintiff, had been taken by surprise by certain additional evidence admitted after the case had been closed. The argument, which had been commenced on Wednesday, was now resumed, and concluded.

Sir William Manning, G. C., Mr. Martin, G. C., and

Mr. Sheppard appeared in support of the rule; and Mr.

Darvall, G. C., and Mr. Stephen in support of the verdict.

The action was one against brokers for an alleged breach of duty. The breach declared upon, was a failure by defendants (or one of them) to procure the auctioneer's guarantee in making a purchase of a number of sheep and stock for the plaintiff's benefit. The evidence, there had been two trials, both reported in the Herald. The first was a verdict, the jury having been unable to agree.

At the second trial there had been a verdict by a majority, for the defendants. The evidence at this trial, by which the plaintiff was said to have been taken by surprise, related to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

defendants were said to have been taken by surprise, related

to what had passed at an arbitration which had taken place

between the plaintiff and other parties in relation to the purchase of the sheep and stock in question. It had been stated by witnesses who had been engaged in this reference

as arbitrators and as attorneys that plaintiff had on that occasion, declined to accept of a guarantee to obtain a guarantee. But a post-mortem had been sought, on the ground of the absence of a witness who could speak as to the truth of the matter, and was rapidly and validly

admitted. The evidence at this trial, by which the

It was clearly the intention of the parties that, if Mrs.

Terry's mortgage was established, it should be paid.

But, according to the law as it stands, and that under an ordinary conveyance for quiet enjoyment, the chaser can recover no damages, in respect either of improvements, or of increased value of the property prospectively, or of improvements, or in other words, for the loss of his bargain. I am aware, that the case here is one of express contract, of a peculiar kind. It is not one of conveyance or agreement in the usual form, but of a conveyance and guarantee against a particular event, which event has happened. And it seems to me impossible, but that a man incurred liability against a loss, by merely paying a portion of it. If the seller has the loss, he is to that extent clearly not indemnified.

One can understand why damages are not recoverable, as a general rule, for the loss of the bargain in cases where a sale goes off, without fault in the vendor, for the want of title, that is to say, from inability on his part to convey the property, or from the want of title in the goods sold. But in the case of a sale of goods, and not of real estate, the vendor is not bound to make a title absolutely perfect. He is bound to make a title such as he is able to make. Having reference to that contingency, therefore, the purchaser has no right to complain of a loss, the possible occurrence of which he might have foreseen, and against which the contract made no provision. But, where the contract is for the sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so, the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

the purchaser is entitled to recover damages. I take the case of a sale of real estate, and the vendor is bound

to make a title absolutely perfect, and he fails to do so,

MORRIS AND ANOTHER.

Plaintiff was a married woman, and her husband was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband

was absent, and she was a married woman, and her husband was absent, and she

"I am, Sir, yours, obediently,"

EDMUND M. TOLMAN

RIGOLETTO.—The Duke of Mantua, here, as opera composers have so frequently treated with the highest and basest attributes of potentates, they indeed most convenient personages. The evenness of the plot of Rigoletto were at one time attributed to the artistic and pedagogical exigencies which rendered his domestic life so tiresome—and to some extent clouded the brilliant reign of the most magnificent of Bourbon Kings. The need of Voltaire, Molière, and Fontaine, was sufficient to call to mind the Duke's position of parent as a monarch, while Madame Maintenon, the eloquent Basset were connected with the production of the work. The story of Rigoletto is a combination of peculiarities of the French social circumstances, operating at one and the same time on all of which have been very effectively dealt with by the dramatist and novelist. These events, so

CARCOAR.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

JULY 18.—Escape of Two Prisoners.—Last week I sent you a report of two men robbing two females of their horses, and of the capture of the men and horses by trooper D-J and a black tracker. The men were conveyed to Cowra, identified and committed for trial to Berridge. The prisoners were there for warder from Cowra to Carcoar, and thence to Lithgow. In the mail coach, in charge of one policeman, at King's Plains the coach broke down (midway between Carcoar and Bathurst), and could not take the policemen any further, in consequence of which the policeman had to leave the prisoners to an inn, where he obtained a room for himself and prisoners, who shortly after went to bed, while the constable remained watching them on a chair. Some time after midnight the prisoners got up to have a smoke, when one of them threatened to climb over the constable, and struck him several blows on the head which rendered him insensible for a time, during which time the prisoners made their escape. It is quite clear that proper precaution was not taken to prevent the escape of these prisoners, or they would not have been left in charge of only one constable to be conveyed to great a distance.

On the following day, on the way, some villainous broke down about forty panels of Mr. Grant's forewheels and destroyed the posts.

THE WEATHER.—Last week we had about twenty hours' heavy snow.

VICTORIA.

The Rangoona puts us in possession of Melbourne papers to the 20th instant.

The subjoined extracts are from the Argus.

Ever since given to the public, the Melbourne Police the detective police that the report of John Purvis, the Provisional Institute notary, having left Melbourne as a passenger on board the Melan, for Callan, was entirely discredited of foundation. There is no doubt that the Melbourne police and their friends were the fugitive, for the purpose which it has for some time answered—that of suspending all search after drains were very dull of sale, and prices had rather a downward tendency. Of 1600 offered about 550 were sold, at from 9s. 3d. to 10s. 3d. each. The latter figure was realized for 20 of 70 heavy hides. Calskins brought 1s. 4d. 1s. 9d. each. Horns, 10s. 6d. to 12s. per pair; and shankbones, 6s. per ton.

[illegible]

At Mr. O. B. Ebsworth's produce sale, held July 27, 37ales of wool were catalogued, and sold as follows: 1s. 6d. to 1s. 6 1/4d.; hand-sheared, 1s. 2 1/2d.; locks, 9s. 4d.; sheepskins, 10s. 6d. to 12s. 8d. in 18 casks of tallow, 33s. 3d. to 37s. per cwt., and 44 hides, 8s. 3d. to 10s. 3d. each.

From Melbourne we have papers to the 20th inst. The Argus says:—

The English mail of the 26th May reached the Heads of Port Phillip during Monday night, and the bulk of the letters were opened on Tuesday morning. The news of the day, however, and commercial advices are not considered as likely to have any material effect in the Australian colonies, but to leave the measure of the opposite result. The effect of this is to leave the measure of the monetary value of transactions, fewer, and smaller than in the previous year, and the result is a depression in January. The season of the year is ordinarily a dull one, but the depression of the week previous to the arrival of the mail leaves an average of the largest of ordinary winters.

However, to be a dull demand for drafts on England for remittances to the colonies. Banks have always been in the habit of making advances, and further shipments, both of gold and specie, are in the hands of the banks. The average of the value of the assets within the colony of two of the banks of the Colonies of Victoria and the Oriental Bank Corporation—have been published, and the result is a very interesting one. The assets of the state of the other seven banks are before the public. The banks of the colony have altered their assets, and the banks have altered at thirty days, 1 per cent.; sixty days, 1 1/2 per cent.; ninety days, 2 per cent.; premium. The banks have thirty days' assets at 1 per cent. and 1 1/2 per cent. and 2 per cent.

The stock and share market a steady active demand has continued throughout the week. Government six per cent. Consols have been more active, and a fraction advance has been marked. Bank shares have been dull, and a fraction advance has been marked. A brisk inquiry has prevailed for insurance and marine insurance. The import market there has been some little speculation at the week opened very quietly. The Market, with the exception of the wheat trade, has been kind of a dull one.

ble expression. The principal character, around whom the others are grouped, is "Rigoletto," which the expression. The principal character, around whom the others are grouped, is "Rigoletto," which is sustained by Mr. Wharton with a most successful intensity. Though a jester, he is worked upon by feelings of intense grief, and his tragic character is shown by much facial expression. The music for this part is declamatory, but here and there beautiful melodies crop out, as in the passage where he explains to Gilda "Thou art my country, family, and friend—no more to her enemy." Gilda, parentless since her father's death, is a poor, lonely, and forlorn little thing, not above 12 years of age. Another scene, which is of dramatic interest, is the scene in the prison, in which immediately follows between Rigoletto and Gilda (Madame Lucy Becont) "Vergil, donna." The solos for the heroine are numerous, but they are exquisite composition and set out with full justice from the primo donna to the most notable of the secondi. At this point it is to be noted that the Duke of Mantua, who is the villain, in which the staccato was given with brilliant intonation. The Duke of Mantua was portrayed

A SPLENDID YIELD.—The Great Xcended Company has kept up its luck bravely this week. Yesterday 482 ounces were washed out, making a total for the fortnight of over 2000 ounces, which 1400 ounces have been washed out in the same time. Yesterday's yield was obtained without cleaning the belt of the machine. An eye-witness of the sluicing tells us that, in a mining and dividend sense, the sight was really magnificent. The gold lay in yellow heaps, and yet richer yields are anticipated with confidence, as the belt and is blocked out. Our own prediction is not clear on the point, but it is said that yesterday's extended yield is the largest ever obtained in one day by any one company in the district. The dividend payable to-day is £90 per share for the fortnight, besides a heavy reserve for expenses.—Ballarat Star, July 19.

The following are the latest market reports:

THE ANNOUNCEMENT.—The announcement of the arrival at Lunenburg of the English mail interferred materially with business to-day, until after the receipt of the letters due here to-morrow, commercial affairs will be conducted in the usual manner. The letters reported to-day, excepting some few late arrivals, were all of 26th, without bags. At auction, 2000 duns were quoted, at 10s. 6d. for the full value.

THE FARMERS.—By last advices from Adelaide we learn that wheat had again advanced to 5s 4d per bushel there, and the price of the wheat here was raised to 5s 4d per bushel. It has been occasioned no change here, and the price remains at 5s 4d.

opening solo, "Questa a Moblie," to the sparkling popular "Donna e Quella," with which the musical concludes. The air—by which Rialto has become aware that the book is a success—has ultimately merged with the loud cry of despair which when he finds that his own daughter is the victim—is a striking effort of musical skill.

Mr. F. Lyster is the assassin, and Mr. George Hodson his sister. The former sings almost all the duos or trios, the latter sings almost all the acts only, but cleverly interprets the music, particularly in the quartette alluded to. Mr. Kitts appeared as Count Montecroce, and Mr. Trevor as the piano. The scenery is very well arranged, particularly the cottage in which Gilda and her duenna reside, the interior of the castle, and the interior of the theatre, with paving up the centre, and the same effect required for the inn in the last act. The ball-room scene was also magnificently arranged. For com-

THE NEW MINISTRY.—Mr. HART, the Treasurer of the new Ministry, has lost no time in showing the House of Assembly that he is prepared, in accepting office, to do something more than adopt all the measures of the previous Government. He has come forward with the outlines of a new programme, and has called a meeting of the Legislature, and has thus sought to vindicate the assertion which he made last week, to the effect that but for his temporary position in the Ministry he should be prepared to announce a policy at any time, and at any hour of the day. The charges which the Government are now making are of a financial character, of a highly important nature, and affect matters which are closely connected with his own department. He evidently regards the tariff question as being as good as settled, and does not in the least contemplate the difficulty of raising revenue by means of a new tariff. He is not, therefore, to be taken in by the promises of the late Treasury, or to undergo a new round of

Our dates from South Australia are to the instant. The Register reports as follows:—
 "What wheat has come in hand during the past week has readily found its market at 4s 6d per bushel, and the price of the week's receipts. The supply is still very limited, and in view of the fact that the weather is so much improved, it is probable that the wheat to be almost entirely neglected, and sales are only to be had for the few remaining consignments of the season.
 "Wheat.—Sales for export have taken place at 5s 4d to 5d per bushel at the Port. The town price is 4s 6d.
 "Wool.—Transactions more or less considerable, 21s to 21s 6p per ton.
 "Wool.—Sales of the season have been 15 to 16 p per bushel.
 "Wool.—We are not aware of any transactions in oats, but there were a large sale of Cape barley at 3s 10d per bushel at the Port and Dairy Produce.—Butter has become very plentiful, prices are much lower than they have been for some time.
 "Eggs, Bacon, and cheese are scarce, and remain quite dear.
 "Many of our cargoes have arrived which meet with a ready sale.
 "The prices of the various commodities are in general low, and the English mail has caused no change in prices this week."

[illegible]

THE NORTH.—The same paper says:—A letter received from a station in the North, dated July 11, describes the season just ended as being by no means a good one for lambing; the first part being extremely dry, and the latter very wet and cold. The consequence was that a much lower percentage than was usual was obtained. The same paper also, on a letter, dated July 7, received from a station further north, we learn that cold and stormy weather had set in.

AMMANA, N. T. — MUNICIPALITY AFFAIRS.—A special meeting for the hearing and deciding appeals against municipality rates for 1963-64, was held at noon on Wednesday. There were fifty and sixty appeals were heard, and the majority decided in favour of the appellants. By reduction to the present rate obtained a fair value of the properties. Mr. Langley presided.

UNNEMAL.—The Friends of the deceased Mrs. CATHERINE MADIGAN are invited to attend Funeral, to move from her late residence, Dowlatabad, on Friday, 2nd AFTERNOON, at 3 o'clock.

JOHN CURTIS, undertaker.

UNNEMAL.—The Friends of Mr. JOHN KELLICK are invited to attend the Funeral of his late departed WILLIAM, TO-MORROW AFTERNOON, at 3 o'clock.

were proposed and cranked with all due honor, viz: "The Queen," "The Prince and Princess of Wales," "The Queen of the South Islands," "The Governor-in-Chief," "The Army and Navy," and "The Volunteers of New South Wales," acknowledged by Brother Robert Ellison; "The Parliament of New South Wales," for which the vice-chairman returned thanks; "The Municipal Institutions of New South Wales," for which the Mayor responded; "The Ancient Order of United Workmen and other Friendly Societies," which was suitably acknowledged in a very able speech by Brother Swinson; "The Widow and Orphans Fund," responded to by Brother Simpson; who then proposed as the next toast "The Court-Martialing of the late Government," acknowledged by Brother Simpson; "The Ladies," were then dropped; and the toast was acknowledged by Brother dropped rails.

OUR RAILWAY TRAFFIC.—The Commissioner of Public Works has favoured us with the following statement of the receipts and disbursements (working expenses) derived from the railway during the quarter ending March 31, 1863, as compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The figures stand thus:—North Line, 1862, $4378 28. 11d.; 1863, $6337 56. 11d. Port Line, 1862, $1000 00. 00d.; 1863, $1710 56. 00d. Taro, 1862, $2606 56. 11d.; 1863, $8316 32. 9d.—South Australian Adelaide.

CEREBRAL.—The Orient, which arrived on Sunday night last, has brought to our shores another Baptist minister—the Rev. J. L. Parsons. He has not come to take charge of any particular congregation at present, but, we understand, to reside here and visit various Baptist churches in the colony, and to visit destitute localities with a view to permanent settle-

H. RICHARDSON, Esq., General Manager, of Australian Joint Stock Bank.

WE have the pleasure of sending you a statement from your institution, stating that payment has stopped of a large number of notes,—amongst others to Oriental and Commercial Banks.

As you must not aware that this is the fact, and that we should not be able to refuse payment on presentation, must beg you to withdraw that portion of the advertisement.

We will of course use our utmost endeavor to enable you to meet the parties who have stolen your property.

Yours faithfully,
For the Oriental Bank Corporation, (Signed) GEO. K. INGELW,
For the Commercial Bank of Australia, of Sydney, (Signed) ROB. NAPIER, Manager.

for which Mr. E. J. Hawkesley returned thanks. The health of the Chairman was then proposed by Mr. Vice-Chairman, and the Chairman returned thanks. The Host and Hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. G. and several other toasts, were also drunk, and the evening honoured. During the evening, letters were read by the chairman from Mr. J. Sutherland, M.L.A., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spence, the Mayor of Sydney; and Mr. South, excusing their absence on account of previous engagements. The Chairman then proposed that the evening was most harmoniously spent, the company breaking up shortly after twelve o'clock. The hall, which the dinner was held in a very spacious and handsome room, and the building has been erected principally by the voluntary contributions of a large number of the members of the Order, and I believe is the only one of the kind belonging to the Order in the world. I hope if other Courts in Sydney were to unite and endeavour to erect a hall for their meetings. Something of the EXTENSION OF TERRITORY.—On the 14th instant, a copy of the despatch received by the last mail, from the Duke of Newcastle on the subject of extension of territory was laid on the table of the House of Assembly. It announces briefly that her Majesty's Government have been pleased to accede to the request of the Colonies, and that the Colonies have been desired to select the territory to be ceded. The Colonies have selected the waters and land for the lease of runs on the Victoria River will now, of course, have to be dealt with by the Local Government. It is possible that no great gain may result at present from this vast extension of territory. But it was not a very large territory, and the country explored by South Australians should not be situated to Queensland, especially as it was more accessible from Adelaide than from Moreton Bay. It was a

(cont.)
Australian Joint Stock Bank,
 Sydney, 15th July, 1933.
 K. Ingelstov, Esq., Manager Oriental Bank Corporation, 111, Market Street, Melbourne.
 Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your joint letter with Mr. Napier of this date, and am instructed to inform you, in reply, that the portion of the Bank's statement objected to in reference to the stolen notes will be drawn.
 For your kind promises to aid our endeavours to recover property, I return, on behalf of the bank, my best thanks.
 I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) A. H. RICHARDSON, general manager.
AUSTRALIAN BOND AND FREE STORES, 315-317, both streets North, near Circular Quay. Every description of goods, free or bonded, received and stored at special rates in the above named warehouse. For particulars apply to the undersigned, W. H. FRAZER and Co.

whether it would be advisable to apply for a grant and for the purpose.

PAVED WITH GOLD.—Mr. Hodge, of Beattie street, had occasion to grade a yard connected with his place of residence, and for this purpose he obtained from the Gravel Pits hill several car-loads of a kind of conglomerate which is found there, consisting of quartz pebbles of various sizes, some of which contained gold, he, out of curiosity broke a piece up, when fine particles of the precious metal were at once rendered distinctly visible. It is stated that a vein of the stone can be traced across the hill.—Bathurst Times.

SPREAD OF PLUNTO-PNEUMONIA.—Writing on the 4th instant, the Swan Hill correspondent of the Flouring Herald says:—"The population of this town is about 1,000, and all their water privileges and other advantages are just beginning to find that they

the control of territory which she was the first to make available, and which, but for the explorations of Stuart, would have still remained unknown. The first assumption of the rôle of discoverer of the gold-exploiters in this work, and feeling that application for a colony on the north west coast would not have been made by practical men in this colony if there were not great chances of the annexation being useful, have done an act of justice in at once assenting to the proposal of the Government to accept of the offer of Mr. Daly's despatch of last January. All the country between the 129th and 138th degrees of longitude is thus added temporarily to this colony—the extension being from the Stony Desert to the central part of the Gulf of Carpentaria on the one hand, and from the Great Australian Bight to the Victoria River on the other.—Ibid.

ENCLAVE NOTIONS OF AUSTRALIAN GEOGRAPHY.
The Scotch Australian Register of 14th instant calls

ROLL, Warehouseman.

TENTH TETH. TENTH.

Mr. M. RHANUL, dentist, continues to supply all modern improvements. Satisfaction and articulation guaranteed.

A single tooth, from 10c. 6d.
Dressed teeth stopped 5c. 6d.
Teeth extracted 2c. 6d.

Note the address—336, George-street, near Hanover Mr. Jones, Jeweller's.

PPLICANTS for the Superintendency of some Road Contracts, advertised in this journal during last No., are respectfully informed that the applicants is LIN.

THE GENUINE FISH BAGGAGE to be had only at H. CUMMINS'—A per lb.—182, Pitt-street.

LYDIA going to Melbourne. Write sharp, No. 4, South-street, off Sussex-street.

COMMUNITIES. This fact has within the last two weeks been brought forcibly before them in the shape of that scourge yelet pleuro-pneumonia, some 400000 of the township cattle, milkers, &c., having been killed last week, all in a very advanced stage of the disease.

Dublin Young Men's Association, containing a lecture delivered by Sir R. G. MacDonnell on Australia. He commences the lecture by giving his listeners some information on the subject of a Australian geography—a subject which he says is "expanding rapidly, and not without intention, in the hands of fewer educated people." Sir Richard says:—"It is a dark and mysterious limbo to the upper ten thousand. I esteem myself fortunate if at a dinner party I find myself related by a lady who knows that New Zealand is not in Melbourn; and I am staggered if I find a lady who knows that the English Channel is not six or eight hundred miles unless there be obviously a wish for information." As a curious instance of the general want of knowledge on this subject, Sir Richard states that whilst in South Australia one of the English Ladies wrote to him, and expressed a hope that he would write her a paper on the subject of the railroad sections! In house, corner, a friend of his, was the

YDNEY MORNING HERALD AND ADVERTISEMENTS received by London and Goltz, successors to H. Ford, news agents, Haver-street.

V. B. Lee, Lower George-street.
T. Palmer (late T. Lusty), Brickfield-hill.
L. L. Lewis, Commercial-street, Upper South Head Road.
J. Knox, Flinders, Yurong and Stanley sts., Woolloomooloo.
J. Ho, Hunt, Steam Ferry, Belmore.
J. Dawdy, opposite National School, Paddington.
J. Ramsay, grocer, Market-street.
J. Charles & Son, Stationers, Newmarket.
G. R. Addison, George-street.
G. H. R. Scholten, Circulating Library, Paramatta-street.

YDNEY MORNING HERALD—
Subscription, 2s. per quarter.
Class Transit or Carriage-post.
Two lines One shilling.
Four lines Two shillings.

Hennings, in reference to an encroachment on Truway's site, the overseer was instructed to remove the encroachment in the event of the expiration of thirty days from the date of the notice served on Mr. Hennings; No. 1, from the secretary of the trust, to which the clerk was instructed to reply; No. 2, to Mr. Weeks, in reference to the straying of goats in his neighborhood; the inspector of mines was instructed to submit a report forthwith at the police-office all parties so offending. Further notice, it was moved by councillor Thompson, seconded councillor Holmwerth, and carried, That the report of improvement be made by the inspector of mines. Councillor Thompson gave notice of motion, "That the hour of the meeting of the Council be seven o'clock p.m., instead of five o'clock p.m. as announced." Passed by the motion. Council adjourned until the 24th August.

MAURITIUS.

By way of Melbourne we have news to the 6th of May from Port Louis.

We quote as follows from the Overland Sentinel de Maurice of that date:—

Her Majesty's transport Himalaya arrived in our waters on the 8th of April with the Second Battalion of H.M.'s 18th Regiment, for the garrison of the island. The regiment formerly in garrison, the Second night times ...

 4 3d. (Some times) ... per line for every additional line for each insertion.
 * All advertisements under six lines will be charged to advertiser's account, if booked.
 - Births, Deaths, and Marriages, 2s. each insertion.
 - Advertisers in the country can remit payment by stage cheque.
 - Printed and published by James Watson and Sons at the Office of the Sydney Morning Herald, Pitt and Hunter Streets, Sydney, Friday, July 24th, 1903.
 au/nla news-page 1479